Respect and courtesy

To spend a wonderful day getting away from it all at the park, everybody needs to be mindful of the well-being of the other visitors.

The use of speakers is tolerated, at a low volume, only audible for your group/family. Courtesy is essential, with the other visitors AND with park wardens. During peak days, the waiting time for some activities may be longer. We do our utmost to shorten your wait as much as possible. The youngest visitors must, at all times, be supervised by an adult. We count on you to remind them of the right attitudes for cohabiting with others.

The walker's right reflexes

Take your rubbish with you until reaching the next dustbin. Stay on the trails and paths provided. Be discreet, wild animals will thank you for it.

Dogs accepted

Dogs must be kept on a leash (during the whole visit) for everyone's peace of mind, visitors and wild animals. Please pick up dog mess. Dogs are not authorised on playgrounds, activities or in buildings. Any bad behaviour may be sanctioned.

Aid station

In case of an accident or need of immediate assistance, you can contact our emergency service. Our telephone team will follow the appropriate procedure to assist you as quickly as possible.

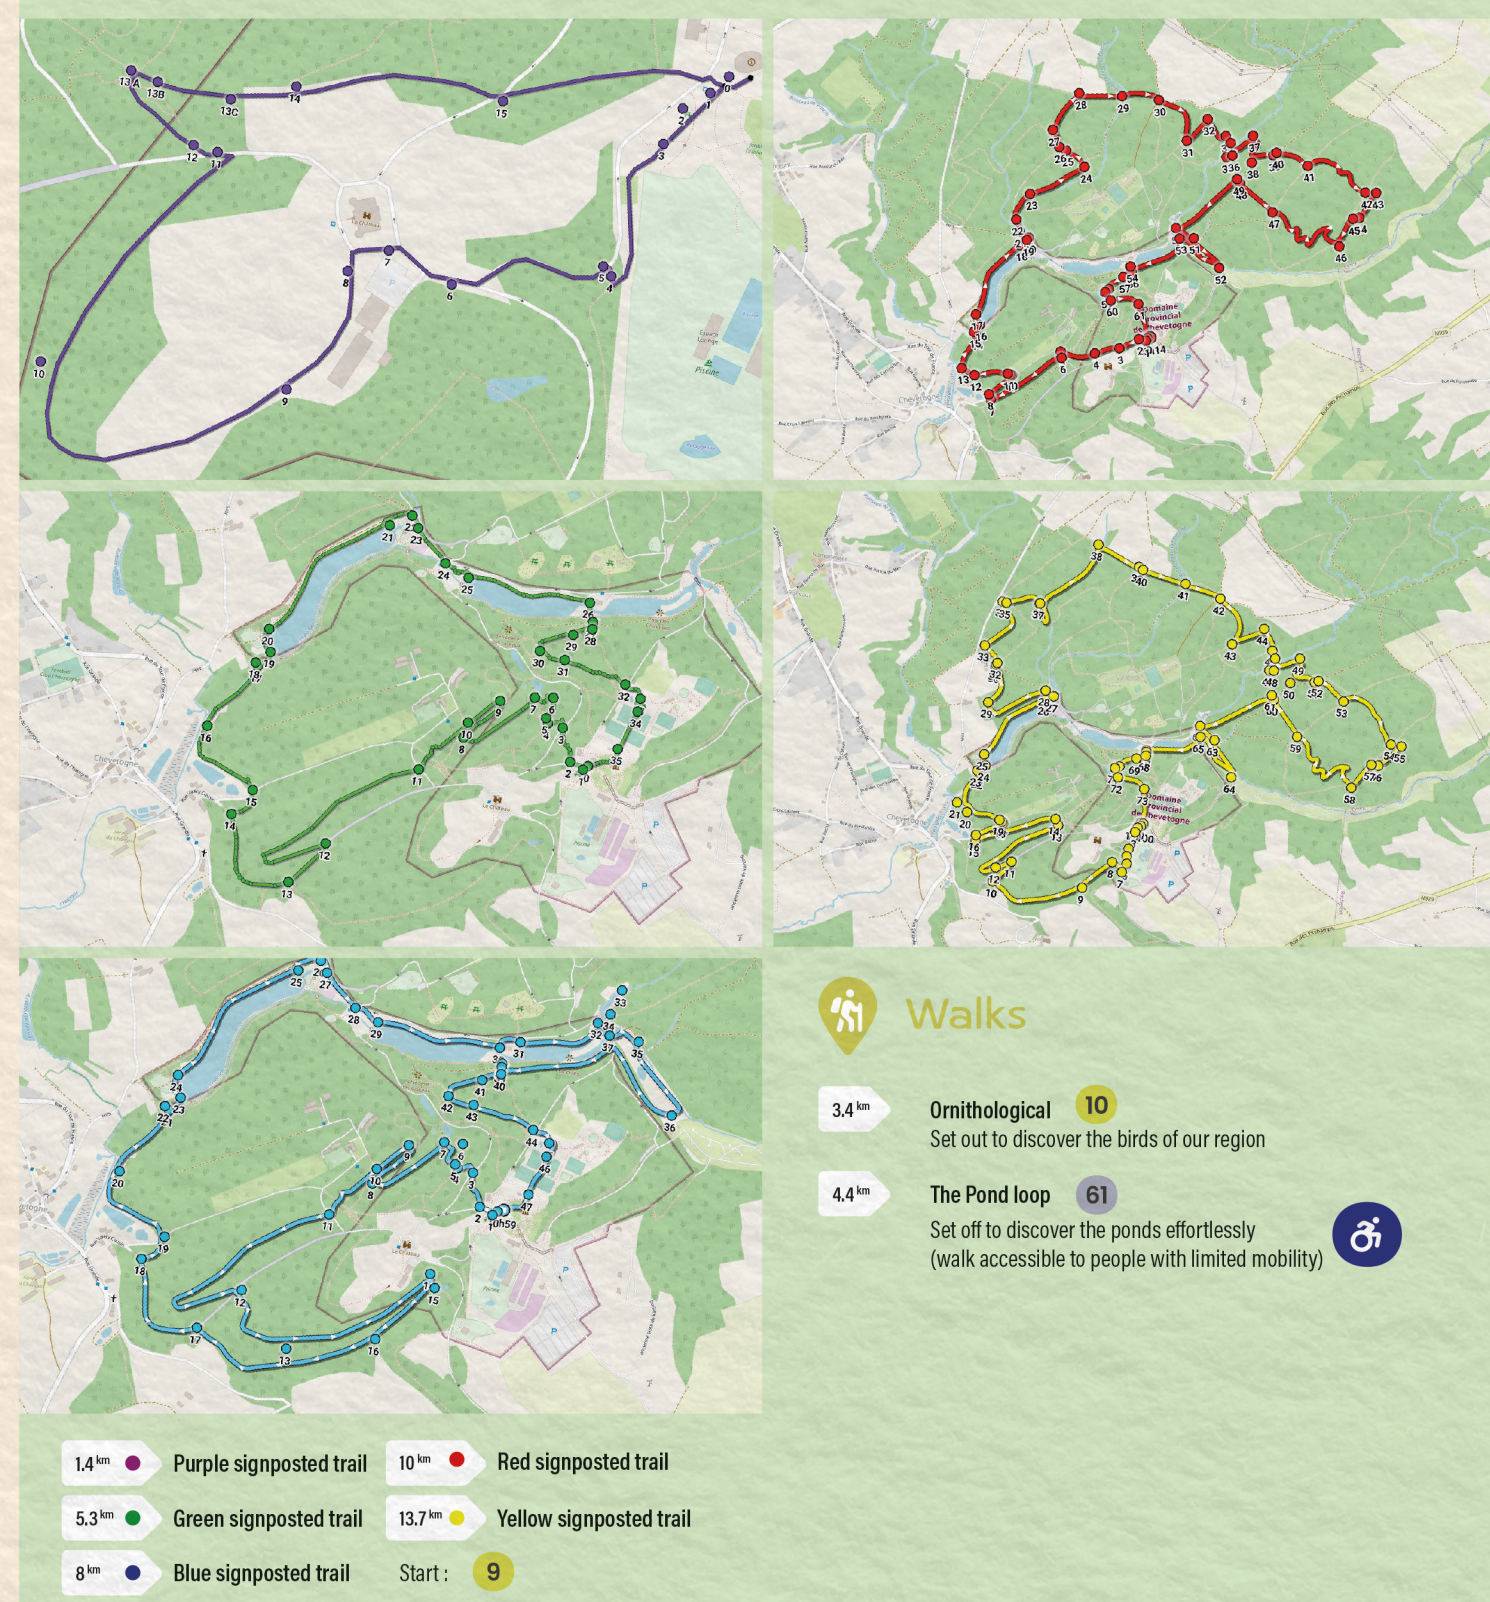

Emergency no. : +32(0)83/687.222

Let's protect our gardens

In order to protect the beauty of the gardens, please do not pick, remove or trample on landscaped areas (flowery meadows, gardens, plantations on the edge of the pond...). Flowers are useful for the park's numerous pollinators and pleasant for everyone to look at.

No-smoking Park

The Domaine de Chevetogne is now a non-smoking area. Smoking, including the use of electronic cigarettes and similar products, is only permitted in designated smoking areas marked on the map. Thank you for respecting this rule and helping to maintain a healthy environment.

People with limited mobility and pushchairs

Walking areas around the 3 ponds, the Château and in the gardens have been especially adapted for people with limited mobility, wheelchairs and pushchairs, with a gentle slope. The "high" part of the park allows people with limited mobility to move around via tarmacked roads or paths. However, the steep slope of some sections of road (between the ponds and the château, towards the "Rhodos" or the trailer park) may make access difficult. We don't advise the signposted walking trails (except for the purple trail) to people with limited mobility.

Car parks

Two alternative big car parks are available on the Estate's entry road, after the barriers, to make the best of the park which is best explored on foot. You are only authorised to park your car in areas provided for this purpose. Parking on unauthorised areas will be sanctioned.

The little train

During peak days, it is possible that the little train is full when it reaches your stop, and that it doesn't stop everywhere. Walking remains the best way not to lose time.
